Homecoming Dance

DAVIS MEMORIAL LIBRARY
Fayetteville, N. C.

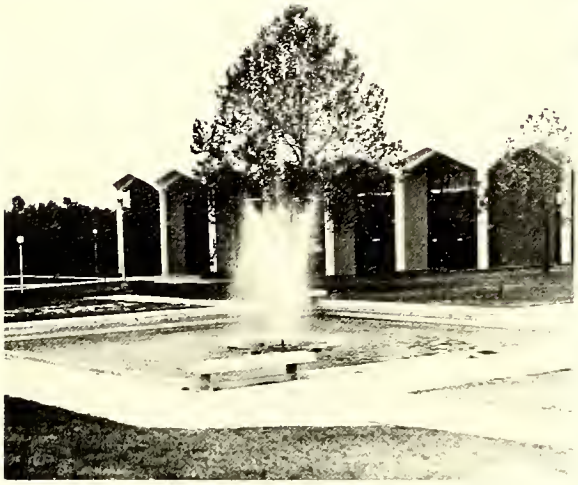
Just as a fountain has different phases,

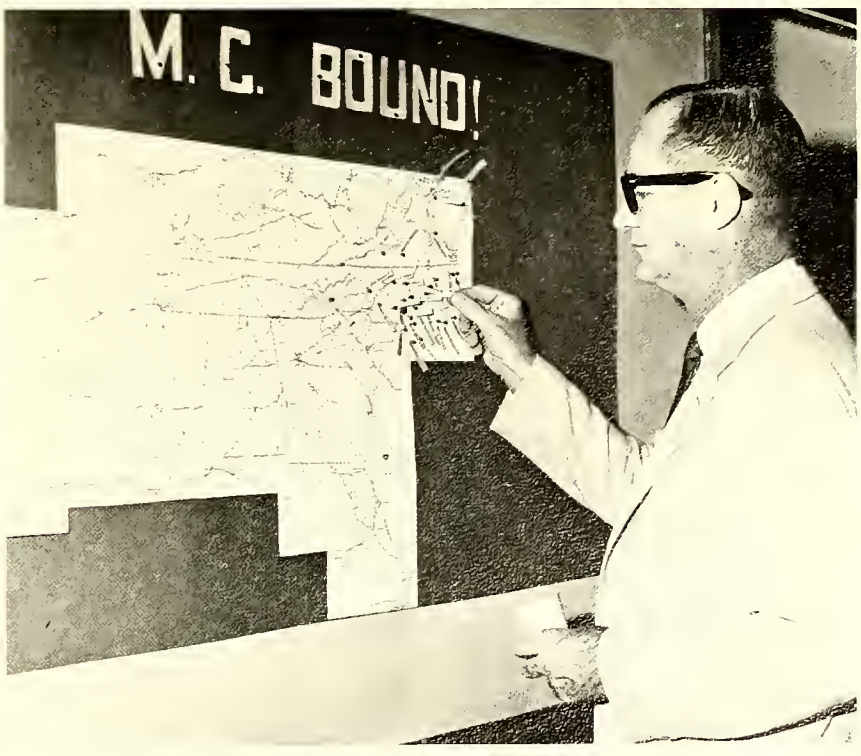
So does the life of an individual.

There is always tomorrow

Which will soon be today

And inevitably yesterday.





M. C. BOUND!

Homecoming Soccer Game

The Drifters

In Concert

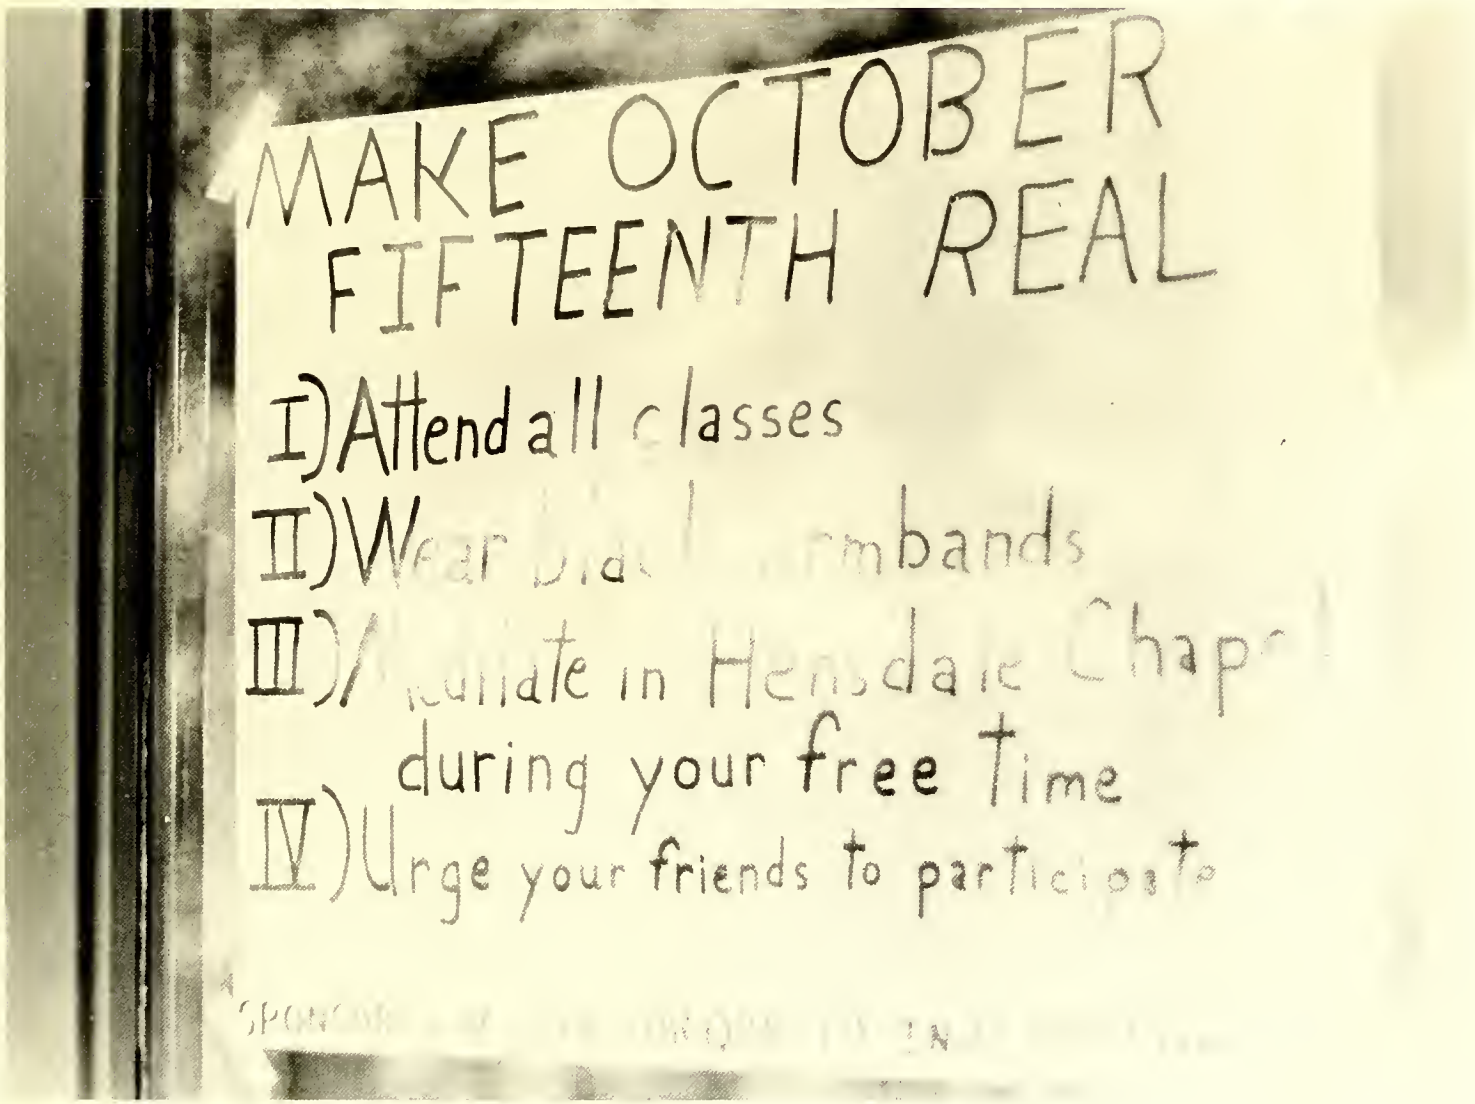
An old spray dies only to

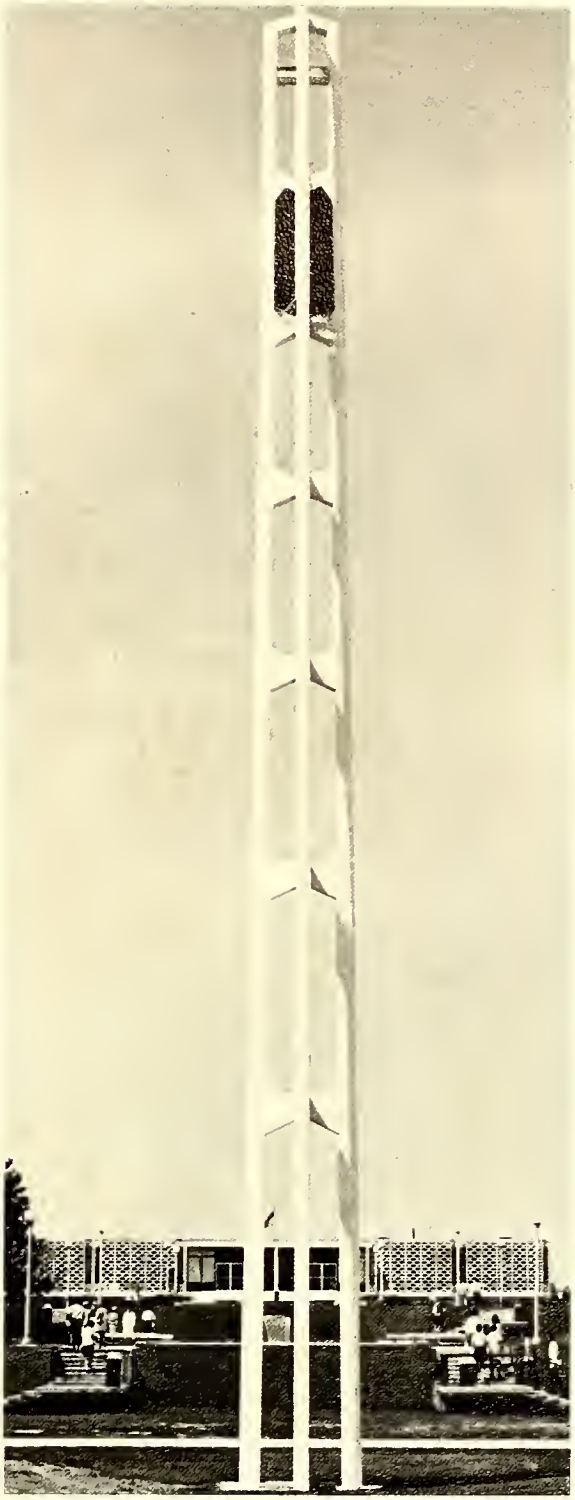
Be replaced by a new one.

The question is—

What unique shape will it take?

Once and only once will it exist.





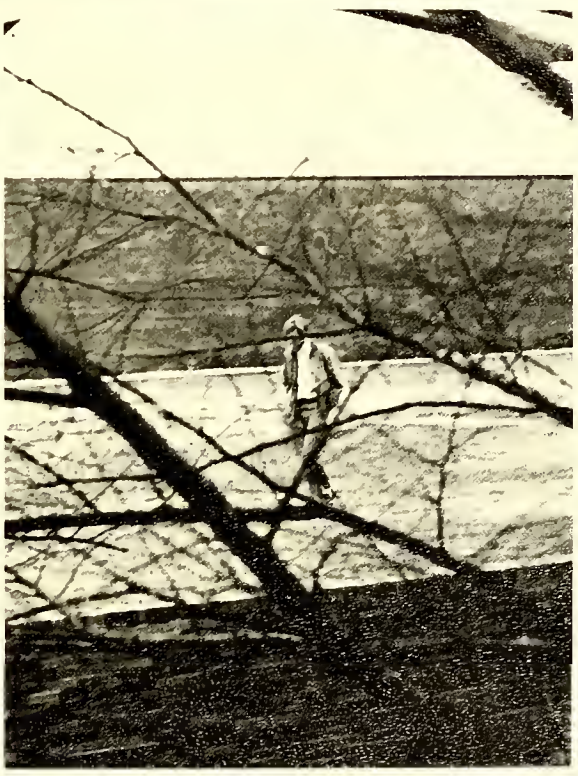
Slowly and majestically

It begins to tower.

Spreading its droplets of glistening dew.

Many form beautiful shapes;

Others contribute little.



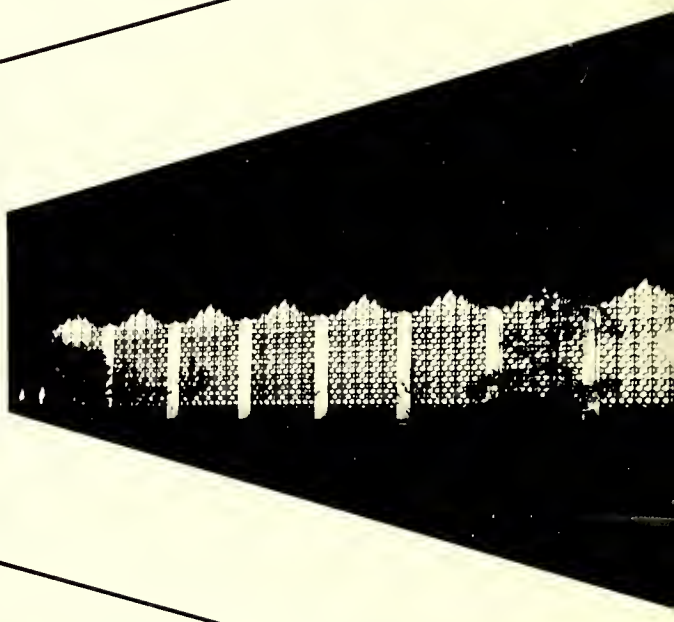
After the crest comes the lull.

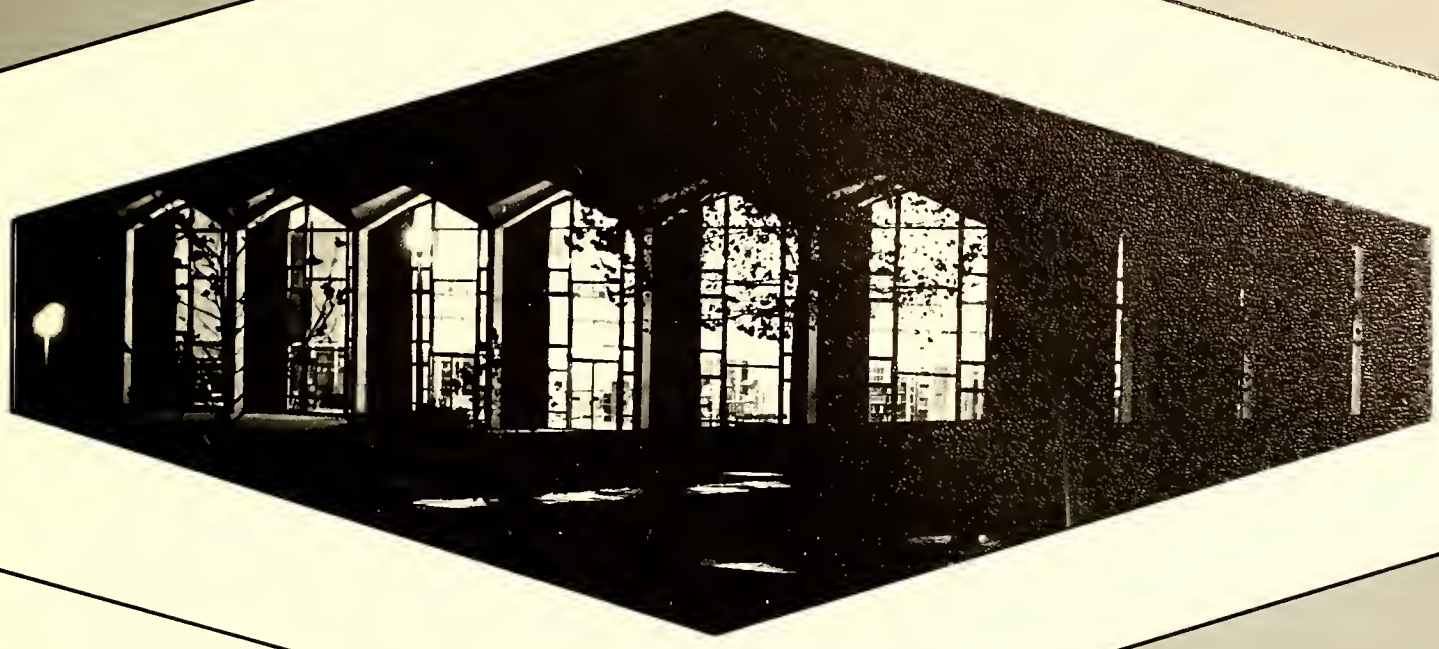
Soon what was today becomes yesterday,

And the droplets recede to their origin.

God gives no choice as to life or death,

The only choice is what to do with it.





ACADEMICS

Office of the President

"As we close our first decade of academic work here at Methodist College, we can look back and feel some gratification at the things which have been achieved. Building of a Physical Plant has moved closer to completion with the opening of one new building during the current year; but more significantly, an additional group of young men and women have had the doors of opportunity opened to them. The curricular opportunities offered by the college have been enlarged and enhanced. Another important aspect of this developing maturity has been the increasing responsible role played by the students in our aspirations to greater excellence in academic endeavors and greater harmony in the community life that is such a valuable asset to any campus. These young people bear an increasingly important role in our campus life and as they go out as alumni into major fields of usefulness. And so we look forward to the second decade with high expectations and renewed determination."

The Methodist College Foundation Inc., was established by the citizens of Fayetteville and Cumberland County for the specific purpose of providing financial aid and other support to the college. The foundation pledged $2 million in an initial building campaign and $50,000 annually in sustaining funds to insure the college success. The foundation through solicitations locally raises about $120,000 annually. Fund efforts continue through the Foundation, its board of directors, officers, and two full-time employees. The Foundation Office is located in the Horner Administration Building on the campus. It has done much to meet community and institutional needs.

Department of Public Relations

Mr. William P. Lowdermilk
Director of Public Relations

The Public Relations Department, directed by Mr. William Lowdermilk, is the link between Methodist College and the public, as well as high schools and other colleges. Representatives of the department travel to high schools, informing the students of the opportunities in higher education at Methodist. The Department also keeps the public informed about the activities of the students through the news mediums and maintains regular contact with Methodist College alumni by means of a quarterly bulletin.

Public Relations is a part of the Division of Institutional Advancement. This department, the liaison between the Public Relations office and the Methodist College Foundation, is directed by Mr. Charles L. McCullers.

Mr. Bill Lowdermilk confers with Mrs. Peggy Wann, Public Relations Secretary.

Board of Trustees

The Board of Trustees, as the legal governing body of the college, is the legal owner of the college property and has final responsibility for all legal actions which the college takes. It grants academic degrees, approves requirements for degrees, and formulates other policies governing the operation of the college. It approves curriculum changes, changes in regulations governing student life, the annual operating budget of the college, and is responsible, as a corporation, for the financial solvency of the college. The Board delegates to the President, and through him to his administrative officers, the responsibility for administering its policies. The Board is allowed to have a maximum of 36 members. There is no requirement that a member of the Methodist church or that he must reside in any particular area or state.

Office of the Academic Dean

The Academic Dean has the responsibility for the academic program and academic personnel of the college. He serves as a link between the faculty and the president and as administrative supervisor of academic procedures and activities. The Academic Dean recruits the faculty, approves curricular schedules and teaching assignments proposed by area chairmen, and represents the college at various meetings of professional educational organizations. He represents the faculty and the academic program in meetings of the Academic Affairs Committee of the Board of Trustees at the invitation of the committee.

Within the administrative structure of the Dean's Office are the offices of the Registrar, the Director of Admissions and the Library.

Library

The Davis Memorial Library is the intellectual focal point for our college with the main function to supplement the college curriculum and to encourage students to read leisurely. There are a variety of resources to serve the academic needs of the students, faculty, and community. The facilities include periodical and reference sections housing 46,000 volumes, a musical listening room with recordings and scores, a conference room and spacious reading area. There are 400 periodicals received regularly to supplement the academic program. Over 700 microfilm reels and a film reader are easily accessible to the student body and the public.

This year Methodist College received a new Head Librarian. All of the library assistants are willing to aid the students at any time.

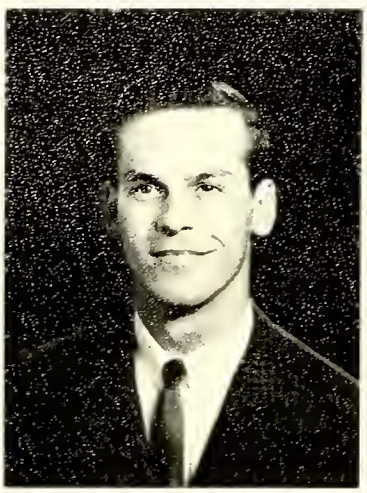
Office of Admissions

The Admissions Office processes all incoming applications for admission, both before and after they are reviewed for acceptance or rejection. It is responsible for student tours on campus and for recruiting new students. The Director of Admissions travels to high schools representing Methodist on College Day.

In enrolling new students, the Admissions Office requires a high academic standing, however, character and attitude are important. Methodist College expects each student to conduct himself as to reflect credit to himself and the college.



Mr. Paul D. West

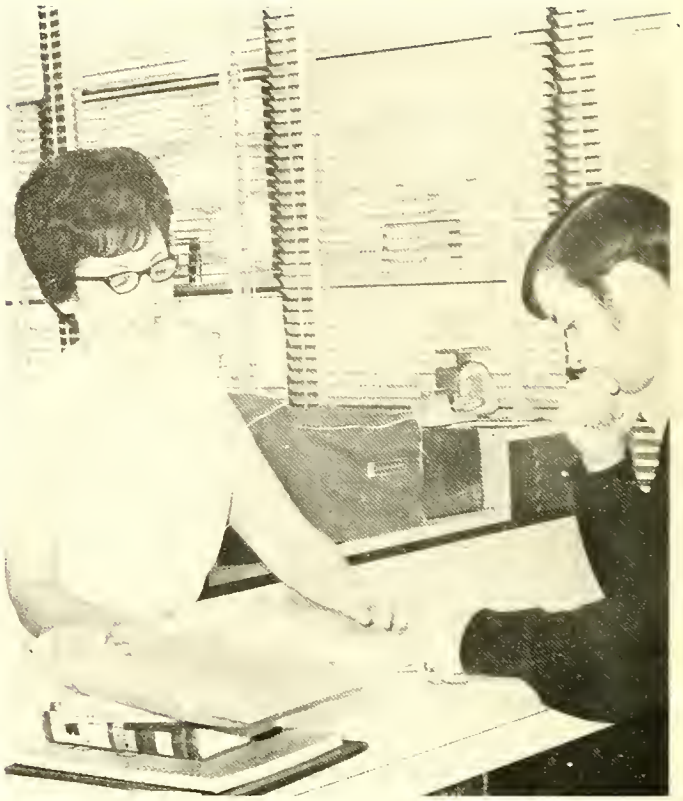
Mr. Neil H. Thompson
Director of Admissions

Mrs. Willis assists Gene Dillman as he adjusts his schedule.



Mr. Samuel R. Edwards
Registrar

Office of the Registrar

Major duties of the Office of the Registrar include arranging class registration, processing grades, maintaining up to date transcripts which may be sent out upon student request, and computing grade-point averages. From these averages, the office compiles a list of students eligible for the Dean's list as well as Academic Probation. The academic records of all students are maintained up to date and all applications for admission are kept on file in addition to student correspondence.

Mrs. Thelma S. Thomas
Assistant to the Registrar

Mrs. Sarah C. Willis
Secretary to Registrar and Director of Admissions

Office of the Comptroller

The Office of the Comptroller has the responsibility of allocating school funds, appropriating finances, maintenance and construction. It controls all funds for campus organizations and formulates on-campus traffic and parking regulations. All traffic fines are payable to this office. An indispensable link in the administrative chain, this department's ability is clearly illustrated by its conservative and effective spending.

Included in the Office of the Comptroller is the work-study program. The office is responsible for payment of students employed in part-time campus occupations. Also Financial Aid makes available information and applications for loans and scholarships.

Office of the Dean of Students

The Office of the Dean of Students has the responsibility of relating the policy of the college to the day-to-day affairs of the student body. This office also aides the students in any problems that may come up while the student is at Methodist College. Varied in the scope of its duties, it supervises the college medical staff, residence hall directors, Student Union hostesses, the scheduling of campus social activities, and college housing. The Deans also participate in some of the Chapel programs during the academic year. Offering able assistance to the Dean are the Dean of Men, the Dean of Women, the Athletic Director, the Director of Guidance and Placement and the Chaplain.

English Language and Literature

The Area of English Language and Literature, as an integral part of the purpose of Methodist College, believes in the freedom of the individual, and the maturity which living in a changed and changing world necessarily demands. Creativity is recognized and encouraged in all courses in Area I.

Correct and effective use of the students' own language is important, regardless of the individual's specific field of interest and the courses in Area I are designed to enhance proper usage of the native language. During orientation, all entering freshmen are required to take a placement examination in English. For those students who have special trouble in English and do well in other courses, individual conferences are held.

While proper English is the responsibility of every Area of concentration at Methodist College, the Department of English bears the immediate responsibility of promoting the student's literary ability. Basic requirements of Methodist include survey courses for Freshmen and Sophomores in composition and British literature. Demonstrated literacy in basic courses is a prerequisite for remaining at Methodist College.

Religion and Philosophy

Area II offers courses of study that hopefully will better aid students in developing a personal philosophy of life. The department offers courses to enable all students to become more familiar with the Bible, the Christian tradition and the Church in contemporary society, and man's philosophical strivings. In order to accomplish this, all degree candidates are required to take six hours in Old and New Testament and three hours in Philosophy.

Students preparing themselves for further training in seminaries of divinity schools will find that more and more such institutions are emphasizing the importance of a major in Religion at the undergraduate level. This is not necessarily a requirement but provides the student with certain advantages at the seminary level. Persons preparing for service as Directors of Christian Education or Assistant Directors of Education should consider the major in Religion with emphasis in Christian Education.

Philosophy provides a desirable theoretical background for such professions as law, education, business or the ministry. Presently, Methodist College offers a minor in this field which provides the students with a knowledge of the development of philosophical thought and those thinkers who were responsible for it.

Education and Psychology

Subject competence as well as effective teaching methods must be combined to result in the highest level of teacher skill. Methodist College graduates many students who enter the field of education. Students may major in Elementary Education or prepare as secondary teachers of English, French, Mathematics, Social Science, Science, Spanish or the special subject teacher of General Music. Located in an area of rapid population growth, the college teacher graduates are employed locally, recruiters for teachers come to the campus from such other states as Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, South Carolina, Florida and Georgia. Normally, the student admitted to the Teacher Education program at Methodist will begin work in professional courses in the first semester of his junior year. Every effort is made to have the student apply for admission to the program in the second semester of the sophomore year, in order that he may follow a regular sequence in professional education. For the elementary education major, approximately 40 per cent of the undergraduate program would be in general education. The student preparing for secondary school teaching must satisfy requirements in his field in addition to the professional education courses required for a secondary education minor. When the student completes the required courses as prescribed in the college catalogue, passes the National Teachers Examination, and applies for a teachers' certificate, he will receive the Class A teachers' certificate in North Carolina. This certificate may be used as a qualifying credential in applying in another state. Methodist College education students may continue in graduate school and qualify for positions as school administratiors, supervisors, principals and guidance counselors. Additional courses in psychology (a minor is offered) will prepare students for school psychologists, teachers in special education and testing specialists in schools and industries.

The curricula of Science and Mathematics are each divided into two categories: one is directed to students who plan to major in a science or in Mathematics; the other is designed for students whose major fields of interest lie elsewhere and who will take courses in those areas primarily to satisfy requirements for graduation. All degree candidates at Methodist College must take one year of study in both Mathematics and Science. In Mathematics the student selects a course suitable to his background. In Science he may select the two-semester all-science course which covers eight weeks each in the fields of Biology, Earth Science, Chemistry and Physics. He may, however, select a full year of one of the natural sciences.

The department offers excellent preparation for teacher certification with major concentrations offered in the areas of Biology, Chemistry and Mathematics and a minor offered in the area of Physics. Students in this field of study are offered a major sequence of courses which should complete a well-rounded view of the field. The Mathematics and Science Departments offer an excellent foundation for post-graduate work in the areas of medicine, dentistry, nursing, public health and veterinary medicine. A 3-2 program in pre-engineering has also been established in cooperation with the N.C. State University School of Engineering.

Social Sciences

The overall objective of the social science program is to enable the student to acquire an intelligent appreciation and understanding of the relationship between himself and the society in which he lives, and of the development of all other past and present human societies, including their inter-relations and mutual influences.

The specific objectives of the area of Social Sciences is to prepare the major student for a career. Each student's educational background is kept sufficiently broad and liberal to enable him to grasp the overall picture of his career and the relationship between his and other related careers. There is a myriad of careers to choose from, ranging from a banking career to that of a social worker. This area includes the following subjects: History, Economics and Business Administration, Political Science, Sociology, and Geography. There are various courses offered under each of the above subjects and there is a major offered in each, with the exception of Geography, with a minimum of thirty semester hours in the department.

Fine Arts

The Fine Arts Department offers a variety of courses in the areas of music and art leading to a major or minor. These are available to all students, enabling them to adapt these courses to their own interest.

Methodist College is served by the Music Department in 3 specific ways: (1) it provides courses and activities in music which will add value and enjoyment to the general college program; (2) it provides sequences of courses in music to enable students to earn a major or minor in this field; and (3) it aids in preparing students for careers in teaching music privately and in the public schools. Students who are not music majors may also enroll in music courses for which they are qualified, including private instruction in applied music in voice, piano, organ, clarinet, flute, violin, viola and bass and percussion instruments.

Presently, Methodist College offers a curriculum in art leading to a minor in the field. Art courses, both studio courses and classes, are open to all students in the college. Instruction is offered in drawing, painting, sculpture, design, art history, and art education.

Occasionally this past year there were exhibits open to the public. These consisted of traveling exhibits as well as art work submitted by the art instructors and students.

Foreign Languages

An essential part of a liberal arts education is the study of languages. Methodist College, therefore, requires all students to take a year of French, Spanish, or German beyond the elementary level. The goal of Area VII is to impart a real ability to understand, speak, read, and write a language with the hope that these fundamental skills will remain and form a foundation for further progress.

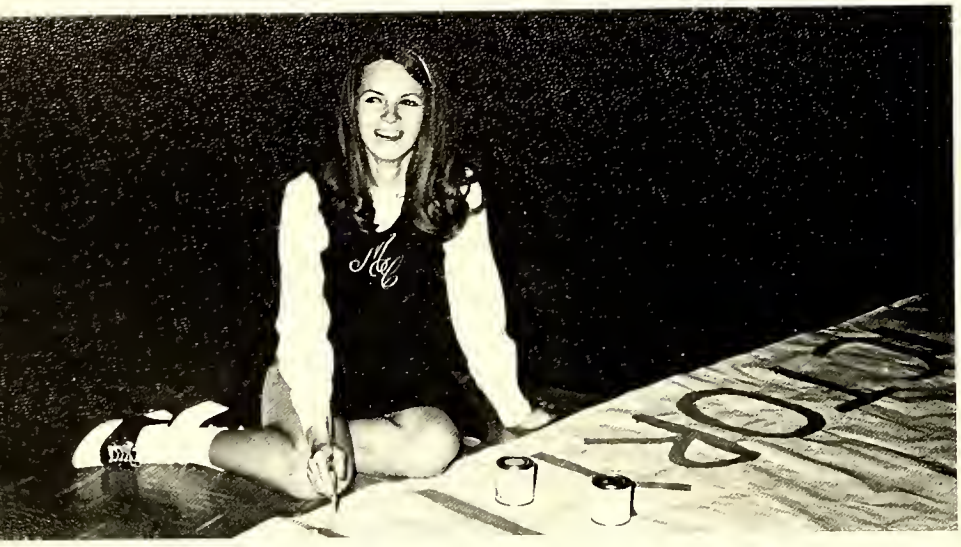
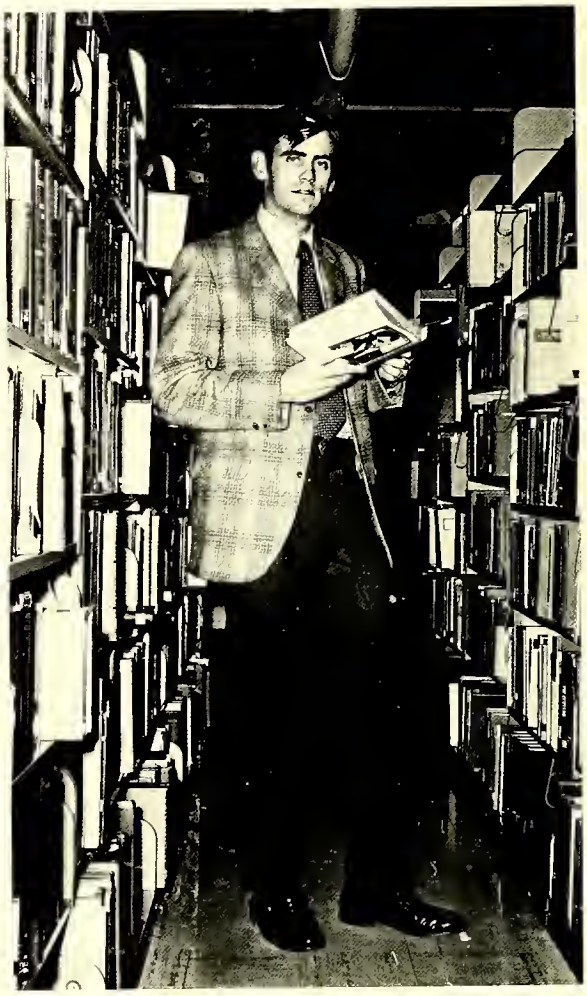
Who's

Eighteen members of the senior class of Methodist College were selected as members of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges this year. Each candidate for membership is selected after the faculty carefully reviews his scholarship, citizenship, and leadership in both educational and extra-curricular activities.

Linda Burns Lingerfeldt is an Elementary Education major from Carthage, N.C. She enjoys participation in sports and piano for which she has taken nine years of lessons. She has made the Dean's List on numerous occasions, been a member of the Music Club, Art Club, Student Education Association, Young Democrats Club, and the Methodist Student Movement. Linda has been particularly active in art activities as well as music, from the piano to chorus to the "uke."

Caroline Norman is a French major from Fayetteville, N.C. In addition to being a Dean's List student, she has been a member of the May Queen Court and a cheerleader her freshman, sophomore, and junior years. Caroline was secretary of her sophomore class and rose to the position of chief cheerleader her senior year.





Al Schwint is a Business and Economics major from Metuchen, New Jersey. He participated in sports and lettered in Cross Country his sophomore year. During his junior year Al served as class senator, a representative on the S.G.A. Concert Lecture Series Committee and the Interfaith Council, and was a member of the Circle K Club, in addition to again being on the Cross Country team. In his senior year, Al maintained his Dean's List record and was chairman of the Elections' Committee.

Steven R. Thompson graduated from Shaker Heights High School in Ohio and is now a Sociology major. He has been an active member in the Circle K Club during his four years at Methodist College and held the office of First Vice-President his senior year. Steve has been active in several other campus clubs including the Methodist Student Movement and the Young Republicans. Also during his senior year he served as Equipment Chairman for the Pep Band, Social Chairman of Sanford Dormitory, and as organizer of a new sociology club, Ethos, Incorporated.

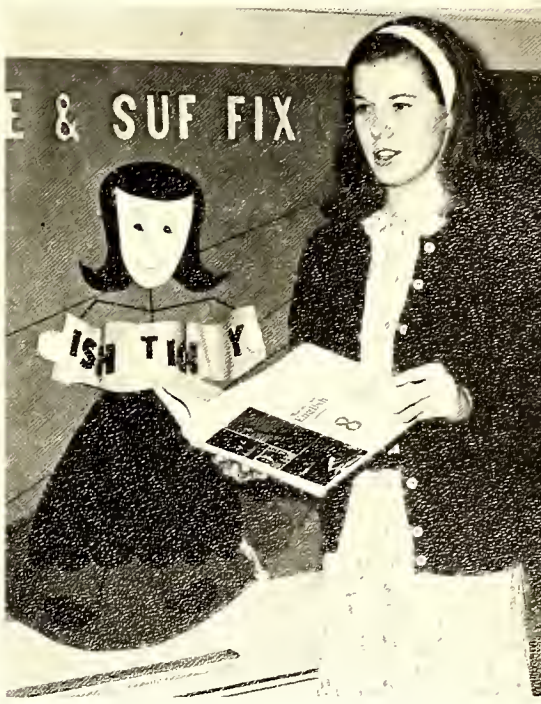
Who

Each winner of the honor receives a certificate of recognition awarded by the Who's Who organization and presented at the college during an assembly program; also recognition in the form of a write-up of his college and personal record in the publication and a listing in the index under Methodist College; and benefits of the Who's Who Placement Service.

Levan Nguyen is a Biology major with a Chemistry minor from Fayetteville, N.C. She was born in Saigon, South Vietnam but later moved to Paris, France where she received her elementary and high school education through her junior year. Levan graduated from Fayetteville High School. She has been on the Dean's List since her freshman year, an active member in the Science Club and French Club, and also served as a lab assistant her senior year for the Science Department.

Georgena Clayton is a Sociology major from Jacksonville, N.C. She has taken much interest in her dorm serving as fire captain her freshman year, president both her sophomore and junior years, and chairman of Weaver Hall judicial board her senior year. During her freshman year she was class defense attorney and a member of W.A.A. In her sophomore year she was class senator and a member of the Executive Council. Georgena was class vice-president, on the Executive Council, and a delegate to the State Student Legislature her junior year. In her senior year, the Dean's List student was S.G.A. vice-president, a member of the central committee of Ethos, Incorporated, and the 1969 Homecoming Queen.

Jan Cranford Kennedy is a Music Education major from Robbins, N.C. During her sophomore year she gave a recital in both piano and voice and was elected vice-president of the M.E.N.C. The Dean's List student gave her senior recital on the organ. Jan has been particularly active in the Chorus her sophomore, junior, and senior years serving as a piano accompanist.



Camellia Ann Sizemore is an English major and a Secondary Education minor from Clinton, N.C. In her freshman year she was a member of the Campus Co-eds' Club and the Woman's Athletic Association. The Dean's List student has served all four years at Methodist College as secretary for the Science Department. "Camille" was a member of the yearbook staff her sophomore, junior, and senior years. During her junior year she was section editor for Clubs and Organizations and in her senior year she was editor for the 1970 Carillon.

Susanne Donnelly is an Elementary Education major from Hickory, N.C. She served as president of the Student Education Association in her senior year and participated in the Methodist Student Movement all four years at Methodist College. In addition to serving on the Koinonia steering committee during her senior year, Susanne was also fire captain of Weaver Dorm where she has also been an office worker for three years.

Robert Flynn is a Religion major with a minor in Sociology and Music from Roxboro, N.C. In his junior year he was appointed to the Rowland charge of the United Methodist Church as a student minister and participated in the Religion and Philosophy Colloquium. In June of 1969 the N.C. Conference gave Robert his second appointment at Pleasant Plains in Coats. Robert and his wife, Jeannine, were the first couple to be married in the classroom building's chapel. He has participated in the College Chorus and has been an active member of Hay Street Church choir.

Barhara Schutz is a Religion major from Atlanta, Georgia. She served as secretary of the Spanish Club her sophomore year and was Maid of Honor in the 1968 May Court. During her junior year, the Dean's List student was secretary of her class, president of the Interfaith Council and a delegate in the State Student Legislature. Barbara was first runner up in the 1968-69 Homecoming Court and was Queen of the Dixie Intercollegiate Athletic Conference Basketball Tournament in Greensboro on February 23, 1969.

Janey Carole McKnight is a Religion major and a Sociology minor from Fayetteville, N.C. During her first three years at Methodist College she was a member of the College Chorus. In addition to being a Dean's List student, Carole served as a hall counselor in Weaver Hall and as a student representative on the library committee her senior year.

Linda McPhail is a Chemistry major from Fayetteville, N.C. In her junior year she served as secretary-treasurer of the campus Science Club and in her senior year she was elected secretary of the Collegiate Academy of the North Carolina Academy of Science. During Linda's freshman, sophomore, and junior years she served on the Carillon staff being co-editor of the Clubs and Organizations section her sophomore year and editor her junior year. As a four year Dean's List student, she was chosen Junior Marshal for the 1969 Commencement at Methodist College.

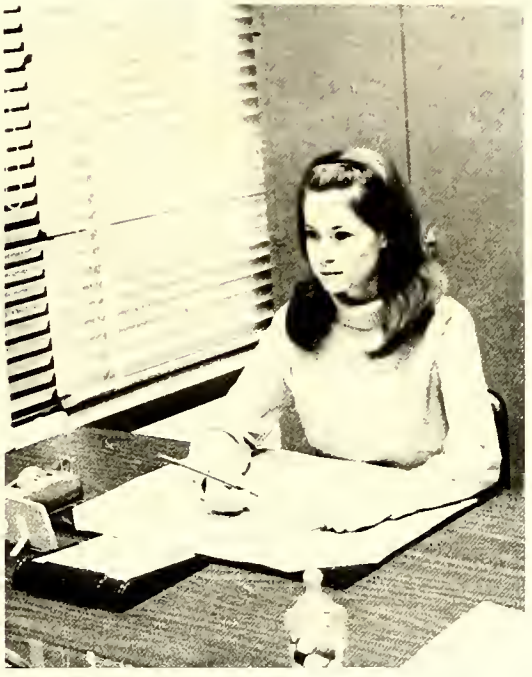
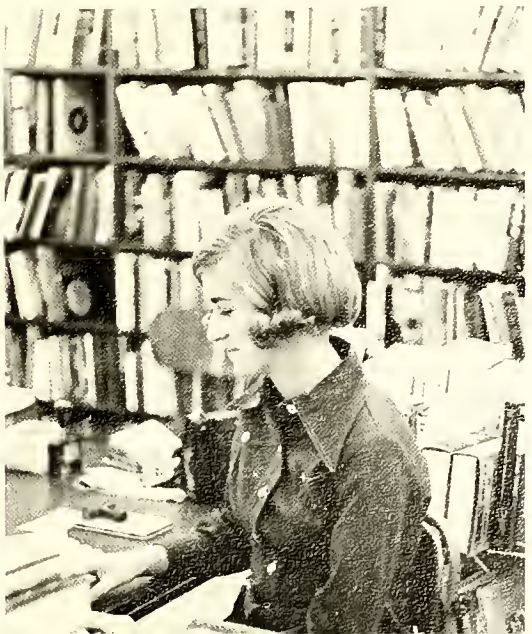
Lana Eckard, of Connelly Springs, North Carolina, is an Elementary Education major. She has been a member of the S.E.A. serving as treasurer her sophomore year and as vice-president her junior year. Lana was also a Dean's list student her junior year.

Jesse Staton, from Fayetteville, North Carolina is majoring in Sociology. During his freshman year, Jesse was on the Dean's list. His sophomore year he served as secretary of the Circle K club and his junior year he was a member of the chorus and served on the S.G.A. External Affairs Committee.

Diane Qualliotine is a Chemistry major from Fayetteville, North Carolina. She was the freshman and sophomore marshal of her class as well as being the chief marshal in her senior year. In addition to being on the yearbook staff for three years, she served as an editor in her junior year. She was in the Science Club for three years, secretary of the S.G.A., a runner-up in the May court, a member of Koinonia, and a representative in the Homecoming court.



Karen Job is an Elementary Education major from Charlotte, North Carolina. She was a Dean's list student and a member of the Spanish Club as well as the S.E.A. Karen was also a member of the senate.



Amelia Leimone is an English major from Burgaw, North Carolina. Amelia has served as a Spanish Club member, Secretary of the Newman Club and Hall Councilor of Weaver Hall. Her sophomore year she was a member of the Dean's list. She was also a recipient of the Dingus Scholarship Award her senior year.

In Memoriam

Crossing the Bar

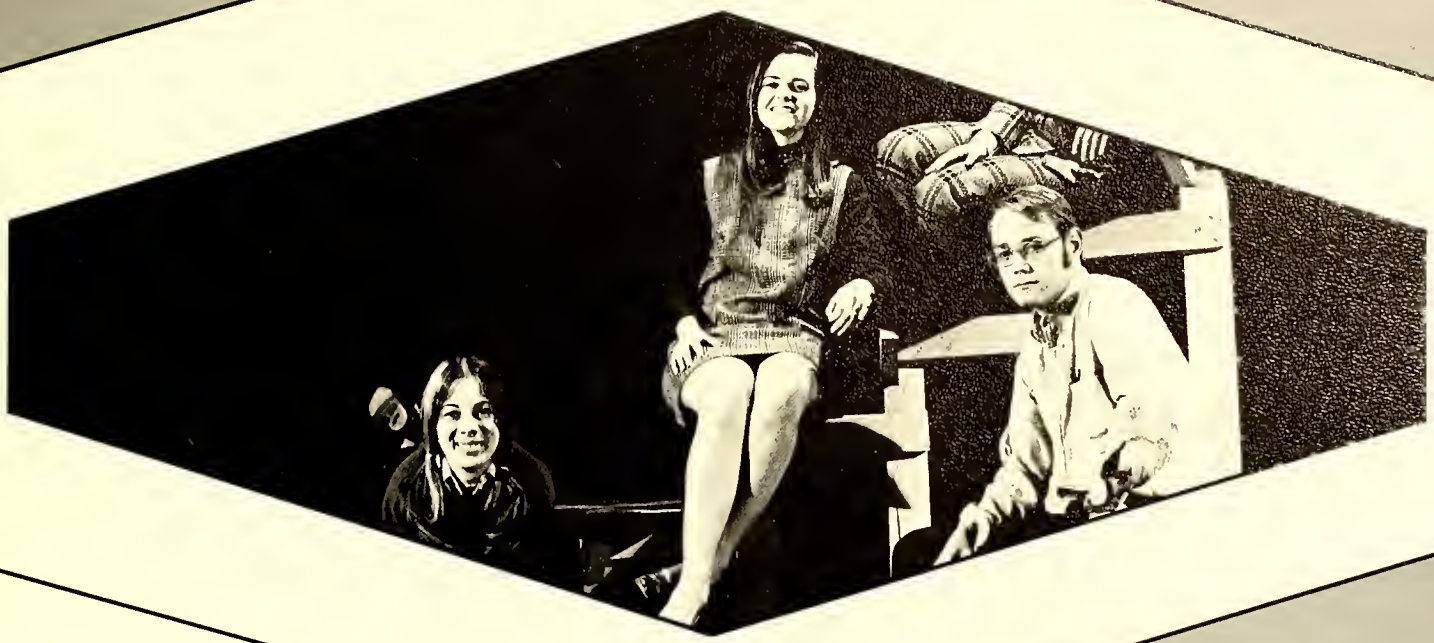
Sunset and evening star,
And one clear call for me!
And may there be no moaning of the bar,
When I put out to sea,

But such a tide as moving seems asleep,
Too full for sound and foam,
When that which drew from out the boundless deep
Turns again home

Twilight and evening bell,
And after that the dark!
And may there be no sadness of farewell,
When I embark;

For though from out our bourne of Time and Place
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my Pilot face to face
When I have crossed the bar.

—Alfred, Lord Tennyson



ORGANIZATIONS

Student Government Association

The entire purpose of the Student Government Association this year was to bring respect for students from all areas. Student representation on numerous administrative committees serves to show that steps have been taken in this direction. This is just a start; the officers hope these trends will be continued in the future. We are interested in hearing your problems, so that they can be corrected to improve Methodist College.

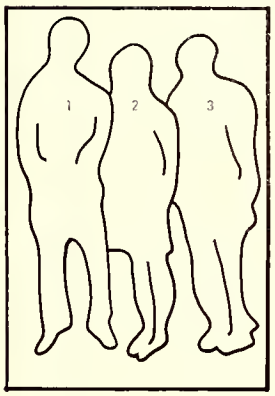
Legislative Branch

The Senate is composed of four representatives and an alternate from each class. Being the legislative branch of the Student Government Association, the Senate sets the standards which constitute our self-governing activities. The regulation of approved campus clubs, the enactment of constitutional laws and the empeachment of officers are among the powers of the Senate.

Judical Branch



The Judicial Branch of the Student Government Association is composed of the Student-Faculty Judicial Committee, The High Court, and the dorm courts. The High Court functions "as the supreme . . . judicial instrument" of the Student Government Association in accordance with Article II of the constitution. Its purpose is to mete our justice and to protect the rights of the individual.

State Student Legislature

The purpose of the Methodist College State Student Legislature delegation is to draft a bill to be presented at the annual assembly of the SSL in Raleigh, N.C. Each college and university in North Carolina sends representatives to this conference. If the legislation is passed by this assembly, it will be presented to the North Carolina State Legislature. In the past, 43% of the bills sent to the State Legislature from the SSL Assembly have been incorporated into N.C. law.

This year the bill presented by the Methodist College delegation dealt with the problems of the migrant worker. Inquiries were made of other state governments such as California and New Jersey who supplied the SSL with information concerning housing, working conditions, and educational opportunities for the migrant workers. Investigation was also made of national laws concerning migrants. Using this information as a guide, the SSL was able to present a bill suitable for the migrant worker's problems in North Carolina.

Representatives from Methodist College attended three interim meetings held in conjunction with other colleges. At these meetings the students discussed the desirable qualifications for a representative to the Raleigh meeting, housing for the delegates, and a choice of a speaker.

Alumni Association

The Methodist College Alumni Association was organized in 1965 to "promote the general welfare of Methodist College and to encourage and stimulate the interest of graduates and former students in the college and in each other." Homecoming Week is held each fall and Alumni Day is scheduled as a part of the graduation weekend program. Banquets, business meetings, and officer installations, as well as informal fellowships, are held. A quarterly Alumni Newsletter is published and an annual giving program is conducted. Alumni chapters have been started in North Carolina for the Raleigh-Durham and Charlotte areas and in Richmond, Virginia. Future chapters are being planned for other North Carolina, Virginia and Washington, D.C. areas.

Student Education Association

The Student Education Association of Methodist College strives to promote the interest of the field of teaching as a profession. The club, associated with both the North Carolina Education Association (N.C.E.A.) and the National Education Association (N.E.A.), selects programs which inform prospective teachers of their rights and responsibilities to their students and community. Its members seek to improve themselves as teachers, to raise professional standards, and to better the schools. The monthly meetings feature a wide variety of programs which offer valuable aid to prospective teachers of Methodist College.

In addition to meetings of the local chapter, Methodist College members had the opportunity to attend a state-wide meeting in April, the annual convention of the North Carolina Student Education Association, where they met students from other chapters and participated in the state organization.

The Student Education Association chapter at Methodist College is fortunate in having as their faculty advisor Mrs. Pauline Longest. Along with Mrs. Longest are other interested faculty members such as Dr. Berns, Mr. West, Mr. Lehman, and Mr. McClelland.

Ethos, Incorporated

It is the purpose of Ethos Incorporated, or as it is more formally known, the Sociology Club, to encourage awareness of and involvement in issues of social concern. Ethos can help a student understand his social environment, his society, and other societies. A student can make new discoveries and reach new insights about his environment. Although Ethos functions as an organ of the expanding department of sociology, its membership may include anyone affiliated with the college community.

Despite its recent establishment, the club has become one of the most active organizations on campus because Ethos is a catalyst. It challenges the students to become of substance. This catalyst can be present within anyone affiliated with the Methodist College community and is made manifest in the expression of a student's desire to become involved in matters of social concern.

Club sponsored activities include afternoon films of sociological significance, lecture and discussion sessions with community leaders and advocates of social reform, encouragement of free expression of ideas in campus publications, critical issues, and planned programs. Ethos is also involved in social service projects in the Fayetteville area.

The Methodist College Science Club is a member of the Collegiate Academy of the North Carolina Academy of Science. Through this Academy the club sponsors guest lecturers from many leading colleges and universities in North Carolina. This year, three of the club members were honored to hold the offices of President, Secretary, and Historian in the Collegiate Academy.

Club members worked on several projects. One was the continuation of last year's garden project. This is the beautification of a courtyard in the Science Building. The club arranged a rock display in the lobby of the Science Building, revised its constitution, and presented an assembly program.

Activities included an annual fall picnic, held this year at Pope Park. In the spring the Collegiate Academy sponsored a field trip to the mountains of North Carolina. In early May the club attended the annual meeting of the Collegiate Academy in Raleigh where several members presented papers on research.

The club holds meetings twice a month with various programs presented by club members and guest lecturers. Membership is open to all interested science and math majors.

One of the newest organizations to originate during the 1969-70 year, was the Economics and Business Club. It began the year with Dr. Sudhakar Guatam as its first advisor. This club was formed in an effort to offer students who were interested in business an opportunity to hear speakers which it would present from the world of business.

During the academic year, it presented such speakers as David Cameron from the First Union National Bank, who spoke on "Banking Services" and Michael McCloskey, who was from the General Accounting Office in Washington, D.C., and who spoke on "Employment Opportunities" within the G.A.O.

For this club's first year in existence, it really got things rolling.

History and Political Science Club

The History and Political Science Club seeks, through on-campus speakers, trips off campus, and rallies with similar clubs of other campuses, to broaden the knowledge of its members in the areas of History and Political Science. The club also participates in the Middle South Model United Nations which enables students from colleges along the East Coast to meet with each other and to discuss the United Nations, learn about its operations and participate in a mock General Assembly. The overall aim of the club is to aid in preparing its members for careers in teaching, law, government service, and other areas.

Art Club

Stimulation and inspiration in the visual arts are the objectives of the Art Club. Opportunities are provided for exhibiting works in juried and sidewalk shows and also as decorations for on-campus activities.

Activities of the club this year include trips to art museums, guest speakers and creative experiences. All of these are a part of the Art Club's endeavor to promote an intellectual atmosphere and to bring the Methodist College student nearer to the world of art.

Karate Club

The Methodist College Karate Club was formed in the latter part of September, 1969, by Reid Sheppard, a Senior. He obtained as an instructor for the club, Mr. Edward Teaka, a 5th degree black belt in Karate and also the head instructor for the Sabu Kan Organization in the United States, which is a branch of the head organization in Okinawa. Besides Mr. Teaka, there are also three 1st degree black belts who assist in instructing the members of the club. They are Mr. Jack Mark, Mr. Mike Daoug and Mr. Steve Forest.

During the first semester, the members of the club were taught the basics in the art of Karate. They were taught how to punch, kick, and even how to shout that famous Karate yell. All the members have shown great enthusiasm during the many hours of instruction and during the second semester. They competed with the Girl's Self-defense Class, which was also taught by Mr. Teaka. The girls seemed to like the idea of being able to protect themselves against over-aggressive males.

The club hopes that the following year will be as successful as this one.

Pep Band

The Methodist College Pep Band consists of members of the Wind Ensemble which is directed by Mr. John Rider. These individuals provide music at the soccer and basketball games throughout the year. By playing at these sports events and leading the cheering, this group shows its support for the Monarchs.

Music Club

The Music Club, now in its fourth year, offers an ideal opportunity for anyone wishing to participate in a musical organization which is concerned with quality music. The student chapter of the Musical Educators' National and State Conference provides a unique experience for any student fascinated by high-grade music, or seeking a musical career.

This organization remains unmatched for its participation in musical affairs concerning the campus life, and thus deserves a great deal of merit. The club cooperates in such festivities as providing ushers for musical events on campus, receptions after student recitals, continuing the tradition of presenting a bouquet of flowers to girls giving their senior recital, and it also sponsored its third annual bake sale in November, which resulted in a highly successful fund raising event.

This club works as part of the main spring balance for all of the official college musical functions.

Wind Ensemble

During the 1969-70 year, the Methodist College Wind Ensemble entered its fourth season under the leadership of their new director, Mr. John Rider. During the course of the season, the Wind Ensemble held two concerts. One was held in December, while the other was held in the spring. Besides these two concerts, it also played at a number of assemblies and supplied members for the pep band.

What makes the Wind Ensemble so unique is the fact that it is open to all members of the college community. In fact, no experience is needed to join According to Mr. Rider, all that one needs to join is the ability to play an instrument.

Also, a number of the members in the Wind Ensemble accompany the Methodist College chorus on their annual tour around the northern part of the country.

Keep up the good work!

Chorus

The Methodist College Chorus is a select group of individuals united in music. Under the direction of Mr. Alan Porter, the Chorus presents music for functions of the college and for meetings of civic groups and organizations of the immediate Fayetteville area. The tour for the 1969-70 year was taken through Virginia, Pennsylvania, and Connecticut during the mid-semester break. The Chorus also joined in a performance with the Fayetteville Symphony Orchestra and the Community Chorus. The activities of the Chorus' year were culminated with its Spring Concert.

Green & Gold Masque Keys

The Green and Gold Masque Keys had one of its most successful seasons during the 1969-70 year. During the fall semester, the Drama Club put on a dramatical production, Maxwell Anderson's The Wingless Victory. The play dealt with a sailor who brought back a Malayan princess as his wife, to live with him and his Puritan family, and the problems which led the princess to kill herself and her children. The production proved to be one of the most successful that Mr. Raymond Conley has put on. Richard Bass, freshman, assisted as Student Director.

Carillon

Dear Fellow Students,

First of all, the yearbook staff congratulates itself for accomplishing the "Mission Impossible," which was, incidentally, the meeting of the deadline. For completing this task, many of us decided to go all out and spend a night at "Gladys."

During the course of putting together this yearbook, we accomplished many important things. One was the fact that there is only one professional photographer on campus who is not even on the staff, though we do owe him a great deal of thanks. Another fact was that a number of the staff attended only two meetings. The first one was to get their names on the roll and the other was to get their picture taken. If we did not have the picture, we probably would have forgotten all about them. To them we say, "Thanks for the memory."

To the students of Methodist College, we apologize for the many errors that can be found throughout the book, whether it be a spelling error in the name "Kowski" or the fact that we may have forgotten to capitalize "stacy weaver." We take all the blame, though "we" happens to be a small number of the original staff. As a matter of fact, only four people are responsible for meeting this deadline and only one of them is on the staff! We can only say that we will try to give you a better yearbook next year.

We hope that perhaps some enjoyment will be derived from this yearbook.

Sincerely,
A Tired Yearbook Staff

sMALL TALK

One of the most controversial issues that could be found on campus this year was none other than the sMALL TALK. Each issue always appeared to be a masterpiece in its own right and it was always up to date on up-coming events.

sMALL TALK is the student newspaper of Methodist College which serves as the voice of the entire college community. During this past year the paper has really become an aspect of each student's life to which he looks forward with anticipation.

Monarch Club

Membership in the Monarch Club is limited to those athletes who have lettered in a varsity sport. Under the leadership of their advisor, Mr. Gene Clayton, the club maintains its goals which are to promote school spirit and establish a meaningful relationship between Methodist College athletes. In addition to yearly fund raising projects, the Monarchs sell drinks at home games. Money which is earned goes toward the purchase of award blankets for the graduating senior members.

Circle K Club

The Circle K Club of Methodist College is a College and Community Service Organization, sponsored by Kiwanis International and associated with the Cape Fear Kiwanis Club. This year the Circle K Club presented benches to the Atheletic Dept. for their use during soccor games. The Circle K had their annual Circle K-Kiwanis banquet on Nov. 13. At this banquet the Circle K entertained the members of the Cape Fear Kiwanis Club, their guests, and several members of the Methodist College staff. In March the Circle K had another banquet for their sponsoring Kiwanis Club.

Some of the other projects the Circle K Club accomplished were: Helping the Salvation Army at Christmas time, setting up concession stands at all S.G.A. activities, supporting the M.C. Pep Band, cleaning up the campus, and providing several luxuries for the Methodist College student body. The Circle K presented its annual Miss Boiler Plant Pageant, emceed by Mr. Parker Wilson. The event proved to be not only a lot of fun for the contestants and audience but it was also the most profitable event of the year for the Circle K Club.

Young Democrats

If ever the Democrats held the majority rule, then it was this year on campus. For once the Democrats were unopposed by rival parties.

The Young Democrat's Club, advised by Dr. John Tobler, is new to the campus. It differs from the many others like it in the fact that it represents a political party. But more important than that, is that it shows that the young people of Methodist College are taking an active interest in the national affairs of this country and that they are interested enough to form a club so that they can get together to discuss them.

The club is at its early stages of course, but it has already shown great progress in growing and in attracting new members.

Esperanza Spanish Club

The Esperanza Spanish Club's main goals are to promote the study of Spain, her language, culture, and people by providing financial support to any club member interested in spending one summer of study at the University of Madrid. The club proudly boasts of having one of the largest memberships of any organization on the Methodist College campus. During this past year several activities for entertainment were sponsored including a spanish costume party complete with a piñata full of goodies. Members of the Spanish club feel that the organization enjoys success as a result of the intense interest and care given by its advisor, Dr. Esperanza Escudero.

Koinonia

All members of the student body, faculty, and staff may belong to the Christian Fellowship. This group is called Koinonia by its members which is a New Testament word meaning "fellowship, communion, and participation." This is an interdenominational organization with the goal to minister to our campus needs. A steering committee works with the chaplain and other advisors to plan for religious life activities such as our annual observance of Religious Emphasis Week. Outstanding religious leaders are invited as speakers and counselors for several days of highly concentrated activity planned by this committee. The committee plans numerous other programs such as a monthly Coffeehouse which provides both entertainment and an opportunity to discuss religious issues.

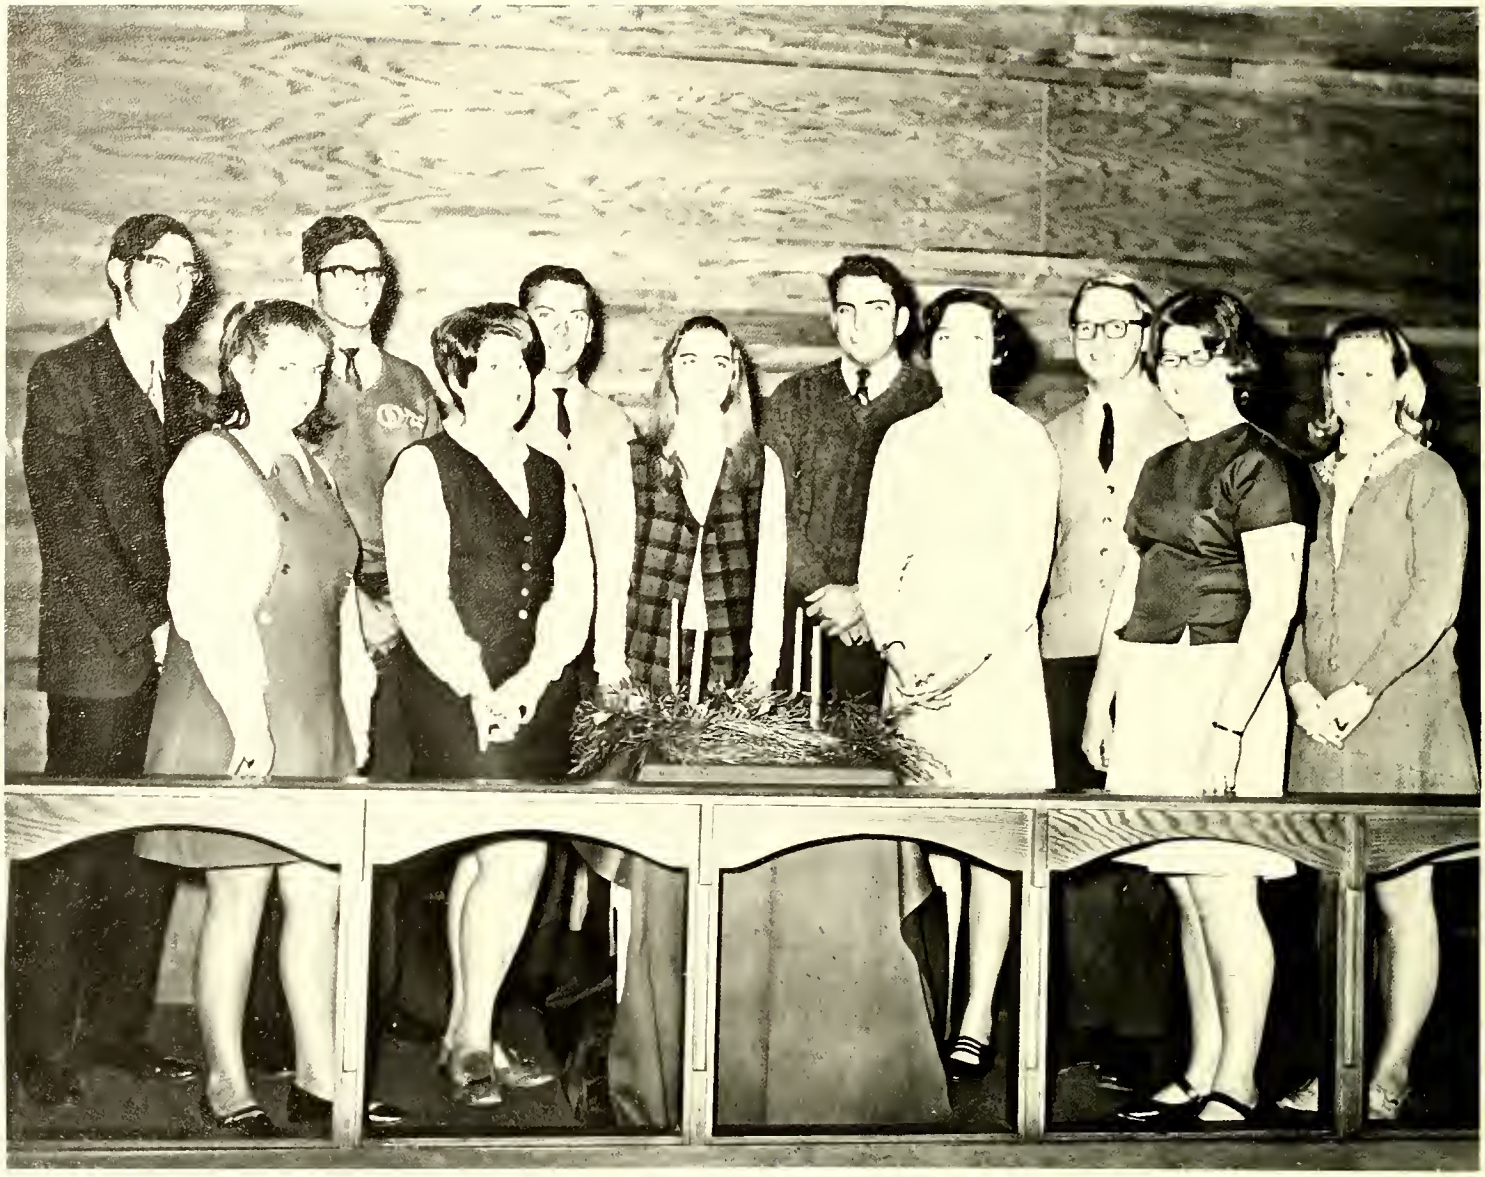
Newman Club

The Newman Club is an organization for Catholic culture and fellowship that fosters the spiritual, intellectual and social interests of the Catholic students of Methodist College and seeks to weld them into a common union and to assist our school and its students whenever possible. During this past year members have sponsored a mass on the second Friday of each month which has fostered the spiritual interests of many students.



Methodist Student Movement

The Methodist Student Movement is the campus organization for students who are affiliated with the Methodist Church. It encourages students to develop a mature and meaningful faith within the college community. This year's activities included bi-monthly dinner meetings, a combination hay ride and Christmas caroling party at various homes of faculty members, supplying greenery for Hay Street Methodist Church during Christmas, and a weekend camping Retreat in early March.

DORMITORIES

Garber Hall

Garber Hall, completed in 1963, now houses approximately 140 women, all of whom participate in numerous events throughout the year. With the help and guidance of their housemother, Mrs. Stanton, and with the guidance of Dean Dent, activities such as Freshmen orientation, a very important affair, the halloween party, homecoming festivities, and the Christmas party have been enjoyed by all.

Garber Hall is proud of its girls and the work they have done during its seven years of existence.

Weaver Hall, named in honor of the college president, is the newer of the women's dorms. It is only in its fifth year of use. The "Weaver Women" attempted to plant shrubs to beautify the dorm. The annual Christmas party came complete with Santa Claus and his elves and caroling. Weaver again won the Homecoming decorations, and even built a trophy case to house their trophies. The tradition of open house was continued and held once a month.

Sanford Hall

Named for The Honorable Terry Sanford, past governor of North Carolina, Sanford Hall is the newer of the men's dorms which opened in 1965. Under the presidency of Barry Steely, the 135 occupants participated in numerous campus events. Early in the year they held an open discussion on drugs which was lead by a local drug squad detective as well as an attorney. Homecoming decorations featured a steam roller designed by Jim Martin and John Grandefeld. In February the men and their dorm mother, Mrs. Guy Hudgens, sponsored one night of Religious Emphasis Week and thoroughly enjoyed a most enlightening sermon entitled "Faith and Science" delivered by the guest speaker for the week, Reverend Keith Tonkel. Also, the athletic men won for their dorm both the Intramural Football and Volleyball Championships.

Cumberland Hall

Cumberland Hall, the first men's dorm on campus, opened in 1962. The dorm houses 130 men who engage in many of the athletic and social activities on campus as well as within the dormitory. At the close of Homecoming Week, Cumberland sponsored a free cook-out for Methodist College Students at Clark's Park. The men planned long and hard for this event and the result was a large crowd and a good time. It was a great tradition set by Cumberland and they hope to continue it throughout the coming years. During Religious Emphasis Week, the men and their dorm mother, Mrs. Scott, joined in the spirit by serving refreshments.

ATHLETICS

Cheerleaders

Cheerleaders: the word is self-explanatory. Cheerleaders are meant to lead students in cheering. Student apathy often makes the job of cheerleader a very hard one. In spite of the poor response by the student body, Methodist College cheerleaders did not give up. They cheered on, even when the cause seemed lost. The unbreakable spirit of the cheerleaders helped boost the team's morale when they were losing and kept the team "hot" when they were winning. The cheering of Methodist College cheerleaders has probably made the difference between the winning and losing of several close games. Now if they had just had a lot of help by students . . .

Soccer

"Well pleased" was Coach Sykes' comment on this year's soccer team. After a dismal season last year, the soccer season this year was a very successful one. The Methodist College soccer team fought its way to a 6-3 record. Much of this success was due to improved fundamentals and desire to win. The new spirit of the soccer team brought new spirit to the spectators as attendance of the soccer games increased. The students were giving their support to the team urging it on to victory. The efforts of the team and students were not wasted. Methodist College had a soccer team to be proud of . . . win or lose. The Methodist College soccer team had several individuals who received recognition for their outstanding performances. Carl Ford received an "All Conference" award. Howard Arden and Karl Woelfel received "All Conference" and "All District" awards. Karl Woelfel was ranked as the twentieth highest score in the NAIA with fifteen goals. The Methodist College soccer team, Coach Sykes, and the student body are looking forward to next season with much anticipation.

Cross Country

Last year's high hopes for this year's cross country team were not to be realized. Cut down by injury and a lack of participation, the team made a poor showing. This is not meant to reflect of the team members in any adverse way. The team gave all it had . . . it really tried. With a little less bad luck and injury, the cross country team could have exceeded even last year's good team, but that did not happen. Perhaps next year will find a cross country team that is off and running.

Despite a good start this year, the Methodist College basketball team finished in fourth place. The team played well, but often lost to other teams because of short, cold streaks in games. Methodist lost to first place Charlotte by only two points. Perhaps next year Methodist will iron out its basketball problems and be in the running for first place.

Wrestling

Victory!

Wrestling is an ancient sport. In more violent times, wrestling was a means of defense for the everyday man. When civilization became such that man did not have to fight for survival every day, wrestling became a sport. People wrestled or watched for pleasure and entertainment. This is not meant to imply wrestling is a barbaric sport. It has survived over thousands of years because wrestling is an active, exciting, body-building sport.

The Methodist College wrestling team has had one major problem this season. The members of the team just sort of faded away. The original team of seventeen has dwindled to only eight members. Maybe next season will bring a rebirth of interest in the team by both participants and spectators.

Volleyball

Volleyball is a team sport. As a volleyball team knows, it takes a whole team to be successful. Each person has an important job to do and has to be alert all of the time. If this is accomplished, they will be successful as a team.

Although volleyball is usually considered a minor sport, in comparison to baseball or football, it takes a lot of energy and skill to play successfully. The key word in this sport is teamwork. Each person on the team, of 6 to 8 people, has an important job to do. He must keep alert and be "on the ball" at all times.

In this year's intramural play, second floor Sanford proved to be the best team as they went into the tournament holding first place and coming out on top as the champs. Jim Wilkerson and his teammates played against second floor Cumberland for the championship and won the title. Congratulations men!

I've got it!

Bowling

The Methodist College bowling team has had a good year. Despite a slow start, the team has made a strong comeback. The team is, as we go to press, in the running for first place. If the team continues their fine bowling, there is a very good chance of Methodist College walking off with first place.

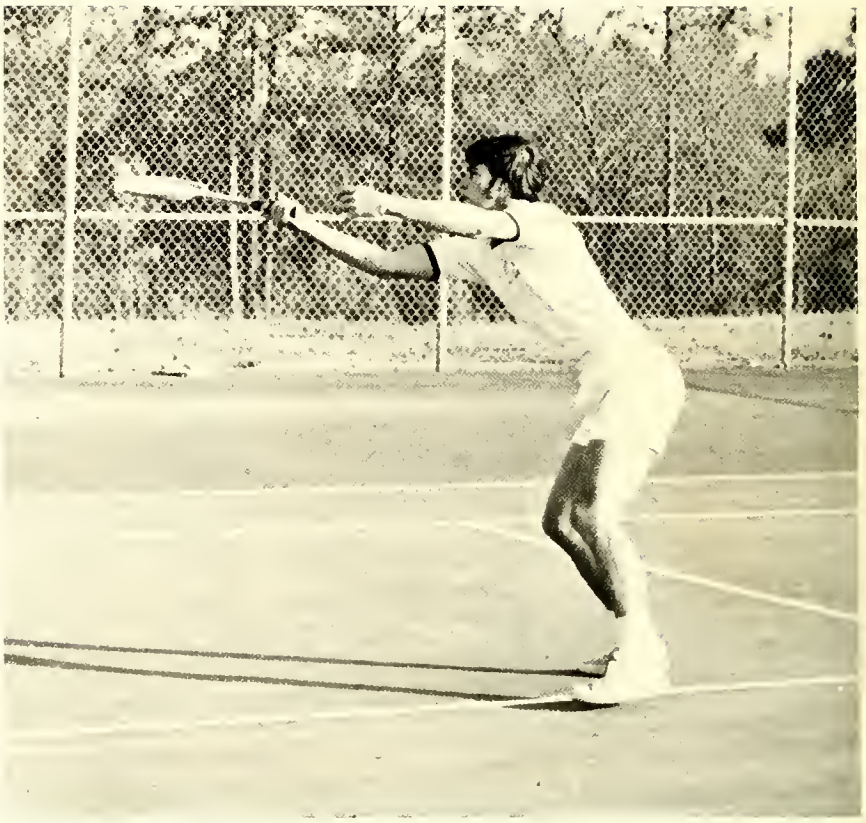
Tennis

Howie follows through after putting a forehand volley shot away.



The 1970 Methodist College tennis team met the new decade with only one returning player from the previous year. Despite this handicap, Coach Mason Sykes built a solid squad of freshmen and transfer students. Through hard work and long hours of practice, the Methodist College team managed once again to beat out a winning season.

Baseball '68-'69

Baseball is a team sport and an individaul sport all in one. When a team is on the field playing defense, it must play as a team. However, when a player is at bat, it's just against the opposing team's pitcher. The batter is an individual facing an opponent. Since baseball is both an individual and team sport, it is enjoyed by many people all over the nation. Methodist College baseball, however, could use some support for Coach Shelley and the team.

Coach Shelley, the team, and the umpire have a little "discussion."

Intramural basketball has some exciting close games. Anytime you get ten people from different floors or dorms opposing each other on a basketball court the play can get to be pretty emotional. The games are well refereed so fowling doesn't get out of hand. The games are just fast and hard, providing the needed emotional and physical outlet for Methodist College men.

DeMund takes his turn at the ball in doubles.

Ping Pong

Click . . . click . . . click . . . click . . . It's intramural ping pong time again. The guys who have been playing all year for fun and relaxation get down to the "serious" business of winning. CAMPUS LIFE

May Queen

Miss Terry Self

The various May Dance Committees of the Junior Class led by President Dave Bowman worked the beginning of the 1968 fall semester to insure that the 1969 May Dance was the best ever.

Think Southern Comfort—these words became very familiar as the Publicity Committee went all out in spreading the May 3rd theme.

Decorations for the May Dance were centered around plantation life in the South and provided a quite elegant atmosphere.

May Dance entertainment was provided by Bobby Wrenn and his orchestra, a thirteen piece ensemble. The ensemble was a great success because of its versatility featuring both oldies and the newer music.

Spring Concert

One of the nations top recording groups, The Vogues, made their exlusive North Carolina concert appearance at Methodist College campus for the Spring Concert.

The Vogues, after signing contracts with Reprise Records in New York some five months ago, have produced hit after hit. Their first single of the label which was "Turn Around, Look at Me," rose to the number two spot in the country and was followed up with "My Special Angel" which rose to the number five spot in the country. "Till" and "Woman Helping Man" also made the national charts in the top ten category.

Many television appearances were to their credit, including the 1968 Ed Sullivan Christmas Show, The Mike Douglas Show, Hollywood Palace, Bandstand '69, and That's Life.

All in their mid 20's, the Vogues grew up together in Turtle Creek, Pennsylvania. They have been working together as a group for the past eight years. They are Bill Burkette, lead baritone; Don Miller, baritone; Hugh Geyer, first tenor; Chuck Blasko, second tenor. The group is managed by Elmer Willet who has been with them since they first sang together.

The singers, known almost as much for their club and college concerts as their recordings, sing both hard rock and standards, and perform two distinctly different acts.

While touring the complete college circuit, audiences have hailed them loudly as one of the dynamic concert attractions of our times.

Homecoming

The Homecoming of 1969 brought about many changes compared to those of previous years.

This year the Homecoming week started off on an educational tone. On Monday, October 27, the first night of Homecoming, Dr. E.G. Williamson presented a Danforth Lecture Series on psychology in Reeves Auditorium.

On Tuesday evening of October 28, this same mature, quiet audience moved outside and became a screaming, thunderous mob. This was the night of the traditional Bonfire, Upperclassmen vs. Freshmen. At 7:00 p.m., the two piles of wood were ignited. The crowd watched in awe as the flames grew higher, and the heat more intense. Then the Freshmen sent out a cheer of victory. The upperclassmen turned away wearing defeat.

On Thursday, October 30, the Circle K sponsored the Miss Boiler Plant Pageant, their annual beauty show. Directly following this event, the Student Union Committee sponsored the "Beggar's Banquet" serving free exotic "Grub" food.

The festivities continued at this high pace through Friday October 31st. This was the evening of the Homecoming Dance sponsored by the S.G.A. It proved to be one of the greatest activities of the week when Hazel Otis and the Tempests provided their entertainment of "Soul" at its best. The presentation of the Homecoming Court was made at intermission. The members were Kitty Cook, Janis Daddario, Georgena Clayton, Caroline Norman, and Joanna Walker.

Saturday was the greatest day of all. For the first time in the history of Methodist College we won the Homecoming game. The victory came on a wet, rainy day against our sister school, N.C. Wesleyan. The soccer team stomped Wesleyan with a final score of 5-0.

That evening, to help celebrate our winning, Bill Pickney and the Original Drifters presented a concert. Maurice Williams and the Zodiacs were the sub-attraction. It was during this occasion that Georgena Clayton was crowned "Homecoming Queen." After this, the Drifters entertained for a dance.

Miss Boiler Plant

The third annual Miss Boiler Plant Pageant sponsored by the Circle K Club, proved to be one of the high-lights of Homecoming Week here at Methodist College.

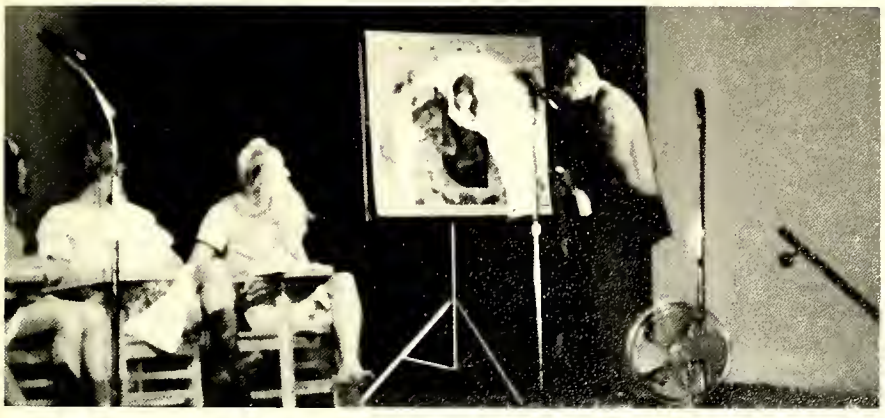
The theme of this year's Miss Boiler Plant Pageant was "Laugh-It-Off." This gala affair was emceed by the renowned Parker Wilson of the "Infamous Fayetteville Little Theater."

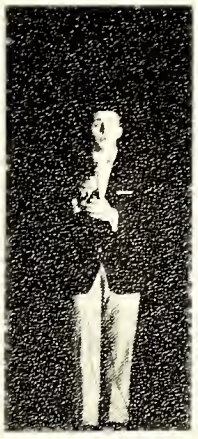
The entire script was written by Mr. Parker Wilson. This included a sequence of five skits picturing the daily routine of the average college queen. This beautiful girl even had to attend a class taught by the feared Mrs. Contrary (Mrs. Contardi).

Various skits and music by Jim Poole, Rick Nunez, Joe Deich, and Steve Thompson entertained the audience at intervals.

The five finalists were: George Cox, Tommy Wright, Jim Russell, Charles Bullard, and Cannon Myers. After a brief questioning period of the finalists, George Cox was crowned Miss Boiler Plant of 1969. Congratulations, Turkey!

There was one cute last minute addition to the show. Dean Pope's little niece was visiting him at the time. Arrangements were made for her to sing a song she just learned from an old Shirley Temple movie. That little girl had the greatest stage presence that the college has ever seen. On the second chorus of "On the Sweet Ship Lolli-Pop," the drummer started to pick up the beat and she followed. Would you believe a strip tease! Heaven forbid!





Fashion Show

Traditionally Garber Hall sponsored an annual fashion show, but as plans for a show were not made this year, the Sophomore class decided to carry on this event.

Prissy Hen donated casual wear for the first segment of the show. Modern Bridal donated formals and also the climax of the evening, the bridal gown.

Coffeehouses

Using a professional group for a coffeehouse was a new idea for entertainment on campus this year. The Kindred Spirit, a folk group, made this a real success.

Though originally from Atlanta, they have spent much of their time at the Bitter End, a top name night club in the Village of New York City.

Their style of folk music is vigorus and refreshing. This is through their simplicity and ability of harmonization.

During their visit at Methodist College, they lived on campus. They wanted to mingle with the students, talk with them and exchange views. The Kindred Spirit had an honest interest in the school. They entertained in the Student Union for two nights and moved to the auditorium for a concert for two more nights. Even though they repeated some of the songs each night, they were a delight to hear.

There were other coffeehouses held on campus that featured Methodist College talent. These coffeehouses allowed the students to sit back and relax.

The 1970 Miss Carillon Pageant proved to be the most beautiful and elaborate of all the Carillon pageants ever presented. The fourteen lovely contestants competed in two categories; street clothes and formal evening wear. They were also judged on poise, walk, and facial expression.

The judges were Mrs. Marilyn Glenn who is manager of Modern Bridal Inc., Mr. Richard Prittchard of the Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce, and Mr. Jim Shirely who is the owner of Christy's Ladies Apparel.

Under the direction and design of Robert Dunn, the contestants were first introduced as they disembarked from a fabricated Peidmont Airlines jet. During the second half of the pageant the girls were presented in their evening gowns as they gracefully entered a garden of spring flowers.

Entertainment was provided by the Lee Boswell Orchestra conducted by Mr. Harvey Bezelle. The Master of Ceremonies, Jim Poole, opened the pageant by singing "Raindrops Keep Falling On My Head" and also entertained the audience during each intermission. Miss Linda Bullard, Methodist College's own Aretha Franklin, captivated the audience with "This Girl's In Love With You."

The climax of the pageant came when Miss Jonnie Stevens was announced as Miss Carillon of 1970.

As tradition has it, the freshman get together at the Hats Off Dance sponsored by the Student Government Association. This activity marks the first month's story in college for all freshmen. At this time, the "frosh" are allowed to remove their beanies for good, but are reminded of the reason for wearing the beanie, which is "Unity." At this time, Bit Stevens was brought forward and announced as the 1969 Beanie Queen.

The Fine Arts

The fine arts area of the curriculum is contained in the campus Fine Arts Building. This area includes the fields of study in Music, Art, Drama, and Speech, all of which are open to all students.

The music section has offered many concerts to the school such as, The President's Band, Philadelphia Ballet, North Carolina Symphony, and the Atlanta Symphony Orchestra.

The Art area provides art exhibits including Traveling Art Shows and work done by our own students.

Yesterday, Today, and Tomorrow

at Methodist College have been painstakingly preserved between the covers of this volume of the 1970 Carillon. As you look through this yearbook, we hope you will re-live many memorable events.

As for the active staff members, I'm certain that a feeling of achievement will be reflected in our faces as we hold the yearbook in our hands. How we survived those four deadlines I'll never know. The first one on November 25 was easily met; everyone was an "eager beaver." But what happened on January 10? Only five beavers and the weather—icicles hanging from the ceiling in the publications room forced us to retreat to the projection booth of Reeves Auditorium at 7:30 on Friday night. There, Barbara Powell, John Williams, Wayne Rogers, Bob Dunn, and yours truly worked diligently. By 5:00 a.m. Barbara's fingers were nubs so we took her back to the dorm. Somehow John and Wayne maintained their sanity until 8:00 a.m. Only two remained; as my diary states, "At exactly 3:00 p.m. (nearly twenty hours after we began working in full force) two numb, tired, exhausted people who somehow managed to still be in love with each other mailed the precious deadline material . . . good-night . . . . Is the hurricane really over? Or is this just the eye?"

Deadline number 3 on February 5 ran smoothly thanks to my five-man staff which now consisted of seven—Ginger Alexander worked diligently to type the entire student directory while Beth Turlington did our artwork.

March 1 was the date we looked forward to the most—the final deadline. The lounge of Garber Hall looked more like an office than a living room—pictures scattered here, there, and everywhere, Barbara and Ginger typing copy, Bob drawing layouts, John writing copy, and Camille pulling her hair out.

Although there are many students who helped on numerous occasions, there are those whom I can never thank sufficiently, including William Hall and Janette Chason who did the entire sports section and Tommy Herndon, our Business Manager. Also, "merci beaucoup" to John Whitmire, our photographer, who is the father of practically every photograph within these 244 pages (except those that are out of focus, overexposed, and grainy).

A really special thanks goes to my write-in candidates for assistant co-editors—Bob Dunn, Barbara Powell, John "Britt" Williams, and Wayne Rogers; without them, these pages would have been an unorganized conglomeration.

And, thank you, Bob, for putting up with me. How we're even speaking I'll never know; after all you ended up as editor of Campus Life, layout artist, copy editor, picture scheduler, ad salesman, photographer, and printer.

The Carillon staff is indebted to many individuals for their assistance. These include:

Dr. L. Stacy Weaver, President of Methodist College
Dean Orren E. Dowd, Dean of Students
Mrs. Bonita Flood, Secretary to Dean of Students
Mr. Bill Lowdermilk, Director of Public Relations
Mr. Bruce Pulliam, Advisor
Mr. C.M. Layman, Layout Artist of Hunter Publishing Company
Mr. Ed. Goldston, Regional Sales Representative from Hunter Publishing Company
First Floor Right Girls of Garber Hall
Town and Country Studios, Formal Portraits
Smith Studios of Raleigh, Class Portraits

We're proud of the 1970 Carillon. We hope you are.
